

Poramin Insom is the founder and lead developer of Zcoin, a first privacy-centric cryptocurrency based on Zerocoin protocol, backed by Roger Ver (“Bitcoin Jesus”) and other prominent investors around the world. He also works as CEO for Satang corporation owned Satang.com, the digital currency social wallet provider and TDAX.com, the digital asset exchange based in Bangkok, Thailand. He is used to serve as a second lieutenant at the Cyberwarfare unit at Royal Thai Arms Forces and holding a certification in Reverse Engineering Malware from GIAC. He had been working for Microsoft Thailand as Software Development Engineer in Test and Accenture Malaysia. He earned a master’s degree in Security Informatics from Johns Hopkins University, and received a bachelor’s degree in Computer Engineer with second class honor from King Mongkut's Institute of Technology Ladkrabang, Bangkok, Thailand.